

Speakers:

Frederick R. Cummings is the Managing Partner of Warshaw Burstein, LLP. Mr. Cummings has in depth experience in a wide variety of corporate and business matters for individuals and both publicly and privately owned entities, ranging from start-ups, to family held, to Fortune 500 clients, involving jurisdictions across the United States and around the world, including:

- Choice and formation of tax-advantageous business entities,
- Sales and purchases of businesses, buyouts and joint ventures
- Public and private offerings of securities and other equity interests
- Lending and financing arrangements for both lenders and borrowers
- private equity, hedge funds and venture capital
- Trademark and copyright licensing agreements
- Distributorships and other commercial transactions
- Executive employment, consultancy arrangements and other employment related matters

Stephen W. Semian is an experienced corporate and transactional lawyer whose practice focuses primarily on general corporate and business counseling. Mr. Semian has a broad background in areas such as debt and equity financing, mergers and acquisitions, and securities and corporate finance. He advises start-ups and established enterprises on a full range of corporate matters, including structuring, formation, corporate governance, employment and separation agreements, securities law compliance and the purchase and sale of businesses. Mr. Semian represents both lenders and borrowers in secured and unsecured financing transactions (including mezzanine financings), and has served as issuer's counsel in both initial and secondary public offerings and private placements of debt and equity securities.